

LATEST NEWS

Information of Interest

DisabilityScoop

Autism Wandering Bill Advances In Senate November 17, 2017

Federal legislation aimed at providing tracking devices and resources to those with autism and other developmental disabilities who are at risk of wandering is moving forward.

Michelle Diament

Airbnb Acquires Site Offering Accessible Accommodations

November 16, 2017

After taking heat for lack of access for travelers with disabilities, Airbnb is buying a company that arranges vacation stays in private homes that have verified accessibility features.

Carolyn Said, San Francisco Chronicle/TNS

Trump Taps New Special Education Chief November 16, 2017

The nation may soon be getting a new top special education official.

Shaun Heasley

Science Daily

School exacerbates feelings of being 'different' in pupils with Autism Spectrum Conditions

November 16, 2017

Negative school experiences can have harmful long term effects on pupils with Autism Spectrum Conditions, a new study reports.

Potential new autism drug shows promise in mice November 14, 2017

NitroSynapsin is intended to restore an electrical signaling imbalance in the brain found in virtually all forms of autism spectrum disorder (ASD).

Innovative genetic, cellular techniques help identify multiple disease targets

November 13, 2017

Advances in the use of CRISPR-Cas9 and human induced pluripotent stem cell technologies to identify novel therapeutic targets for neurological disorders such as schizophrenia and addiction have been highlighted by researchers.

 Autism Support Network

Video: Living with my autism

November 11, 2017

Ethan Fineshriber describes his history of being diagnosed on the autism spectrum and he and some friends talk about what's it's like to live everyday with Autism. [youtube <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fGsCcrs9tWk?rel=0&w=560&h=315>]

asn_admin

A sister speaks out for her brother November 4, 2017

My name is Cecilia and I have a brother named Aden and he's six; he was diagnosed with autism at age four. I often feel bad for him because he acts strangely, but I know it's because he has a disability. Once in a while friends will come over and they will laugh at him [...]

asn_admin

I am not Sheldon Cooper

October 28, 2017

Autistic people are often described as being “not disabled, but different.” As someone with autistic symptoms, I have an idea of what that means. I have trouble sometimes dealing with social interactions and reading facial and emotional cues, such as when I’m talking to someone and they employ sarcasm, and I perceive it as a [...]

asn_admin